

ROCIO RODAS

Rocio Rodas is a contemporary dancer currently based in Toronto. She acquired all of her experience and knowledge in Argentina, her home country. She started as a ballet dancer through her education at institutions such as Teatro Colon, Fundación Julio Bocca and Escuela de Danza Aida V. Mastrazzi, and further developed her choreographic and contemporary dance skills while studying Choreographic Composition at Universidad Nacional de las Artes (UNA) in Buenos Aires. She has worked alongside various international choreographers, such as David Señorán and Ariel Carames. Rocio enjoys experiencing different styles of dance and music through which she is able to implement her distinguishable improvisation skills.